PDA – Professional Development Assignment

Self-Appraisal

Considering that you will need to think about who you are as a professional of the English language teaching area and understand a bit of where it comes from, here's a table that may help you start this investigation, and a short reading list to get started:

	answer	where it comes from / evidence
1. What kind of teacher do you think you are?
2. To what extent do you believe teaching starts in planning?
3. What do you think are your 3 best features as a teacher?	1. 2. 3.	1. 2. 3.
4. Think about your teaching knowledge. Which three areas do you think you need to know more about and study more deeply?	1. 2. 3.	1. 2. 3.
5. Let's go practical: Think about your teaching skills. Which three areas do you think you need to develop most in?
6. Are you (or 'Have you been ...') aware of your own development?
7. How do others see your practice? Think about three pieces of feedback you have received in recent years (ideally from different peers, coordinators, directors, and/or learners) and list them here.	1. 2. 3.	1. 2. 3.
8. Contrasting the information in topics 4/5 and 7 above, do you agree with the feedback? Can you find a theoretical basis for the agreement or disagreement?	1. 2. 3.	1. 2. 3.
